

MILITANT ACTIVITIES ON QUEEN MARY'S NERVES

In Case of Further Demonstrations in Vicinity of Royalty, Will Quit London.

MADE UNHAPPY BY "FURIES"

Should She Be Forced to Carry
Threat Into Execution, Step Will Create an Unparalleled Social Sensation.

London, June 13.—Queen Mary has decided in case of further suffragette demonstrations in the vicinity of royalty to quit London abruptly, and leave King George to finish the season alone, according to a source in close touch with the court and the government.

The Queen is reported as being in a state of nervous tension, and it is said, she has no intention of allowing her existence to be made unhappy by those she calls the "furries."

Should the Queen be forced to carry her threat into execution, the step will create an unparalleled social sensation.

The suffragettes made preparations for a demonstration at the National Horse Show this evening, but their procession had proceeded only a short way toward Olympia when the police interfered and scattered it.

STATEMENT BY WOMEN

IN ANSWER TO M'KENNA
"Will Reginald McKenna, the Home Secretary, suffer for $10 a week?" is the question by the Women's Social and Political Union, in a statement issued to-day in answer to Mr. McKenna's speech in the House of Commons on Thursday, when he said some of the women were paid from $7.50 to $10 a week to commit crimes.

The officials of the militant society say they view with contempt the assertion that women are paid for making militant protests.

A fine of $75 was imposed to-day on Arthur Barnett, clerk of the attorney of the Women's Social and Political Union, who pleaded guilty to the charge of conveying into Holloway Jail drugs for the purpose of making the suffragette prisoners violently sick, after they had been forcibly fed, so as to secure their discharge.

UNITED STATES IN LEAD

Bryan Declares Nation Is Greatest Factor in Movement Toward Peace.

Washington, June 13.—Declaring the United States is the greatest factor in the movement toward peace, Secretary Bryan, speaking here to-day at the day celebration in the Post Office Department, said ideas regarding what constituted the strength of nations had undergone a change.

"Formerly power was thought to be dependent upon the number of battle-ships or muskets that a nation possessed," he said, "but that is not the idea to-day, and it will be even less so to-morrow."

Mr. Bryan said he felt grateful he had been put in charge of the Department of State by a man who stands before the world as an apostle of peace.

BILL APPROPRIATES $31,000.

Washington, June 12.—The Senate to-day passed a bill appropriating

$31,000 to cover the increased cost of procuring land for erecting fortifications at Cape Henry, Va.

DECLARED CONSTITUTIONAL

Illinois Women's Suffrage Act Upheld by State Supreme Court.

Springfield, Ill., June 13.—The Illinois women's suffrage act was declared constitutional by the State Supreme Court to-day in deciding the Scown suit.

The act granted limited suffrage to all women citizens of Illinois by permitting them to vote for salutory officers, and upon propositions presented to the Illinois electorate.

DR. S. C. MITCHELL HONORED

University of Cincinnati Confers Degree of Doctor of Laws on Him.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Cincinnati, Ohio, June 13.—The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred on Dr. Samuel C. Mitchell, president of the Medical College of Virginia, of Richmond, by President Dabney, of the University of Cincinnati, at the commencement exercises of that institution to-day. Dr. Mitchell also delivered the commencement address. He spoke of the Cincinnati university as the one institution "which is being watched closely, particularly in the co-operative course." He said a stream of suggestions was going out of Cincinnati to all the world. Dr. Mitchell was loudly cheered during the course of his address.

delivered at the door. Where it is necessary to make small division of the supply, preference is shown to the homes in which there are ill ones or little babies. Colored people fare equally with the white people, and ice is distributed in South Richmond as well as north of the river. It is desired to help all, and for that funds are needed.

Who will lead the list of contributions to be published in to-morrow's paper?

MEDALS AND HONORS AWARDED

AT DISPUTANTA SCHOOL

Disputanta, Va., June 13.—The commencement exercises of Disputanta High School began June 5 and lasted through Tuesday evening. OBITUARY

Dr. Landon Cabell Woodson, of Birmingham, Ala., formerly of Richmond, a surgeon in the Confederate States Army, died June 11, 1914, aged seventy-eight years. He was formerly well known among the older medical men of Richmond.

Annie Short.
Lawrenceville, Va., June 13.—Annie, the two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Short, died on Thursday morning at 11:30 o'clock, and was buried yesterday in the cemetery of the James Square Baptist Church, in Brunswick County. The pastor of the church, Rev. S. C. Hilliard, officiated. The child was suffering from a combination of cholera infantum, whooping cough and meningitis. It is the second child Mr. and Mrs. Short have lost in two years.

Peter B. Barnes.
Roanoke, Va., June 13.—Peter B. Barnes, for twelve years and until recently prominent in the mercantile church and social life of Roanoke, died to-day at the home of his son, J. V. Barnes, in Virginia Heights. Mr. Barnes had been ill for many months. He was seventy-nine years old at the time of his death, an active member of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and a high degree Mason. Four children survive, as follows: Mrs. R. L. Wittig, wife of Rev. R. L. Wittig, Mount Jackson, Va.; Mrs. Charles V. Neherling, Milwaukee; William Barnes, Christiansburg, and J. V. Barnes, Roanoke. A number of relatives survive.

In Richmond, among them R. L. Barnes, a prominent business man of that city. Prior to coming to Roanoke, he engaged in the mercantile business, more than a dozen years ago. Mr. Barnes was engaged in the wholesale mercantile business in Richmond. He then took a high position in Masonic circles and was past master of Randolph Lodge, A. F. and A. M.

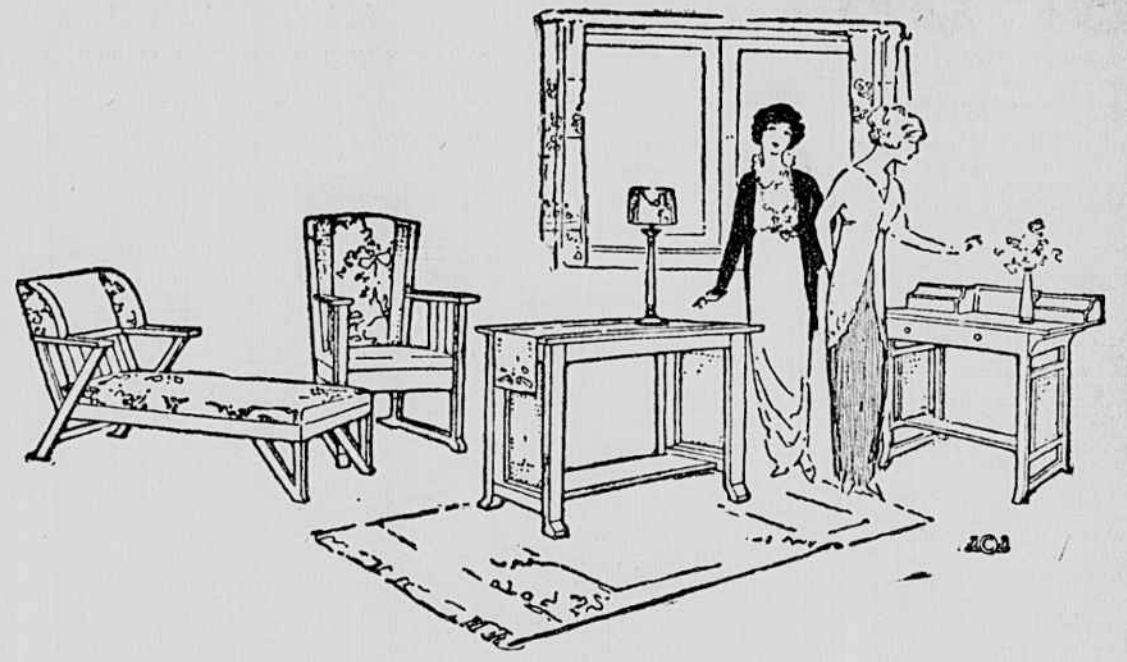

Funeral services will be held at the home of J. V. Barnes, Virginia Heights, on Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, after which the body will be sent to South Boston, Va., where it will be interred.

Louis F. Kastelberg.
The funeral of Louis F. Kastelberg, who was drowned on Thursday, will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock, and the burial will be in Oakwood. Mr. Kastelberg was the son of Roudolph L. Kastelberg, of 205 South Harrison Street.

Joseph Holzgrafe.
Joseph Holzgrafe died yesterday afternoon in Baltimore, and his body will be brought to the home of his sister, 408 North Twelfth Street, Richmond, to-day. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's German Catholic Church to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Miss Mary Matthews.
Pulaski, Va., June 13.—A message from Winnsboro, S. C., was received Friday by Carl S. Matthews announcing the death of his sister, Miss Mary Matthews, which occurred that morning. Mr. Matthews left to attend the funeral, which took place to-day.

Rev. C. R. Norris.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Pamplin, Va., June 13.—Rev. C. R. Norris, pastor of Elton Baptist Church here, died at the Baptist parsonage this morning about 6 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks. He had been pastor here for over three years, and it was chiefly through his efforts that the debt on the parsonage was paid in full, while the church building was entirely remodeled and every cent for that work was collected. He was much beloved by his flock. He leaves his wife and seven children, and is also survived by his father and mother. The remains will be taken to his home in Watauga County, N. C. his father's home, and will be accompanied by a member of the Masonic lodge, as well as by a representative of his church. Mr. Norris was a Royal Arch Mason, an Odd Fellow and a member of several fraternal organizations.

This is the Celebrated English Bungalow Furniture

—Furniture which is a real expression of moods and thoughts. The rakishness of design, the naive, unfettered, courageous originality with which the lines are drawn, make it unique.

Black and white cannot tell us much of the lovely, dull, smooth, woody Scotch grays and browns that really make oak a new, highly imaginative furniture wood, nor the exquisiteness of smooth, ivory, gray or white enamel in combination with the new weaves of cretonne and the panels of cane that complete each composition.

It is a furniture by no means restricted to the summer cottage or veranda, as it adapts itself also most favorably to reception room and boudoir, giving a graceful, cosy and delightful aspect.

The above cut is a suggestion of a variety of these special productions now on exhibition.
